RESEARCH INTERESTS

My personal interest in research due in part to my architectural background and educations is in the form and structure of the city. On the other hand, the principles of sustainable development, particularly with regard to the environment in the framework of planning and urban planning, are part of my particular interests. Thus the plan of my doctoral thesis which aims to know the interactions between the elements of the form and the urban structure on the one hand and the environmental impacts on the other hand, was formed and programmed.

INTERNATIONAL RESEARCH

2016 - 2018

International research project in cooperation with the University of Tours (France) as part of the Gundishapur (Hubert Curien Franco-Iranian Partnership) program entitled "The correlation between the components of urban form and structure and the social sustainability of urban units (the cases of Isfahan in Iran and Tours in France)"; French co-director: Denis Martouzet (University Professor, University of Tours, France).
